Founded in 1989

NNA was born in Hong Kong in 1989, the year of bubble boom when the Nikkei Stock Average reached a record high. Around this time, in response to the rise in export prices due to the strong yen, many Japanese companies are promoting overseas production, seeking labor with excellent cost performance.

7,500 companies

Our paid services are subscribed by around 70% of major Japanese companies and used at the head offices and overseas bases .

It reduces the cost and time required to gather information and enables high-quality marketing activities.

15 times more delivery volume

We are operating a news database site consisting of 1,000,000 articles, which delivers an average of 300 articles per day. It is about 15 times the delivery volume of 5 major papers (20 articles on average). *NNA investigation
